

Acibadem Zekeriyaköy Hospital

Acibadem is a Turkish group managing a huge number of hospitals : 17 multidisciplinary hospitals and 13 outpatient clinics. The entire team is composed by 2 300 doctors, 3 500 nurses and 6 500 administrative staffs. Concerning the last one built, the Acibadem Zekeriyaköy hospital, the Turkish architect Demet Zorlu used some Forbo products : The materials particularly the wooden pvc's look very close to the original. It feels real so gives my design class and elegance. That is one of the things I liked the most about using Forbo products. It is also worthwhile to note that there is an amazing scope of complimentary materials and the company has done an excellent job in terms of guiding me to choose the best alternatives. It is great to use Forbo in every project therefore I will continue to use it in my projects."
