

Boltens Food Court

Boltens Food Court is located in Copenhagen, Denmark. Originally it was a noble palace built in 1771. The restaurant areas have been renovated and prepared for a food market with cafes and restaurants. It was important that the floor covering could be kept clean and cared for after frequent intensive traffic from the many guests who will gather at the market. Various choices were presented to the developer, who chose Allura Stone luxury vinyl tiles in the tile format 100 x 100 cm.
