

Bon Secours Hospital, Cork

The North Block expansion (Cork Cancer Centre) at Bon Secours Hospital Cork incorporates a 12,500m² 7 storey development, including Radiotherapy, Oncology, Ward Accommodation, Critical Care and Operating theatre facilities. Forbo products were used almost exclusively throughout as the client recognised its durability over the years in the existing facility. Forbo was able to provide a wide range of flooring solutions from entrance ways and high quality, sustainable floor coverings, to hygienic and slip resistant surfaces. The Marmoleum range met the environmental, technical and maintenance requirements of the development with wide range of available colours assisting in the interior design development and way-finding design.

Project name	Bons Secours Hospital, Cork
Location	Co Cork, Ireland
Reference Interior Architect	Clara Murphy, O'Connell Mahon Architects
Building contractor	Sisk
Flooring contractor	Aston Crean
Photographer	F22 Photography

Used Products

