

Ecole Jeanne d'Arc, Paris

The architect of the Jeanne d'Arc School project called on Forbo Flooring Systems to choose flooring. She has selected a product from the Marmoleum range, a flooring known for its natural composition, aesthetics and excellent performance. Natural linoleum soil is synonymous with durability, superior quality and innovative design while preserving the environment. The chosen design is part of the Marmoleum cocoa collection. Cocoa bean barks have been added to the traditional components of linoleum, giving it a natural and contemporary texture.

Project name	Ecole Jeanne d'Arc
Location	Paris - 75
Architect	Linda Gilardone - LA Architectures
Photographer	© Charly Broyez

Used Products

