

Edeka Markt Safa, Berlin

Since time is of the essence in renovation projects at the Edeka Group, a flooring solution was needed that could be laid directly on the existing floor particularly quickly, cleanly and quietly. At the same time, it was important that the floor blended harmoniously into the store design. Allura Puzzle, the loose-lay solution from Forbo Flooring, meets this requirement profile perfectly and was used in the Edeka Safa store in Berlin-Tegel in a striking stone look in the color Lead Stone. The large-format tiles with dovetail joints are available in 18 authentic concrete and wood looks. In addition to the fast and uncomplicated application, the price-performance ratio was decisive for the decision in favor of Allura Puzzle. Since then, the product has proven itself with flying colors in the daily hustle and bustle of the capital's markets: extremely robust and easy to clean with every purchase. And should the floor show signs of damage here and there after years of use, individual elements can be easily replaced.
