

Espacio Xuvenil O Remanso

Rehabilitation of the pavilion aims at improved relation to the surroundings by converting it into a civic centre. Functional changes connect an open lobby to the existing concrete pergola, while exterior spaces are reconfigured to integrate vegetation and to link a small outdoor seating area to the park. The pergola's climate control and scale issues are dealt with by a new green roof, harmonizing with the park. Service spaces are grouped in the original lower volumes, providing access to toilets, cleaning, installations, storage etc. while the glazed look of the main hall evokes a park pavilion. The double-height opening transforms into a skylight, separating the two halls and naturally illuminating the head area. The plain visual of the grey Marmoleum Walton colour makes the floor easy adaptable to the context it is used in. The solid identity of Marmoleum Walton with its subtle texture gives the floor a real cement look.

Location	La Coruña, Spain
General Contractor	Desarrolla
Building Contractor	Subcontratas
Commissioned by	Joaquin Mendoza
Interior Architect	LCG Arquitectura
Interior Designer	Fernando Eiroa Lorenzo
Floor Designer	Jorge Garcia Anta
Flooring Contractor	KL1
Installation by	Instalaciones Eloy Mejuto SL
Photographer	Hector Santos-Diez

Used Products

