

Golfclub Paderborner Land e.V.

Not far from Paderborn, in a rural setting and within a versatile mosaic of fields, meadows, forests and water, lies the 27-hole course of the Paderborner Land Golf Club. On an area of 120 hectares, the golf club offers both beginners and top golfers an interesting and varied game. In the Shevels café-restaurant, club members enjoy exquisite food, selected wines or simply coffee and cake - with a view of the manicured green spaces surrounding the clubhouse. The color green is also found in the restaurant: The interior design of the club restaurant is characterized by a coherent design concept, which was developed by Christian Schuster from Freiraum Planungsbüro. Nearly 200 square meters of Flotex Planks in harmonious shades of green (Montage & Ombre) were used, giving the space a contemporary look and elegant ambience. The combination of functional and design aspects as well as the high durability make Flotex the ideal flooring. In the adjacent counter area, Forbo Step safety flooring is applied and brings shine to the floor - metallic particles give the surface a subtle glitter in noble gray and thus reinforce the safe appearance. At the back of the grandstand, opposite the expansive window front, a raised seating area invites visitors to gaze into the distance. This upscale ambience is stylishly underpinned by the Allura luxury vinyl tiles. Its authentic wood look, which is faithfully modeled on its natural counterpart, underscores the standard of this location par excellence.
