

Greenberry office

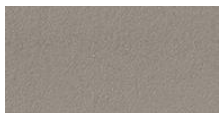

A growing young marketing company, Greenberry, has moved into a stately building at the Maliebaan in Utrecht. The interior design has 2 main objectives; to surprise visitors with the contrast with the classic exterior, and to reflect the creativity of the company. It must facilitate different ways of working, meeting and relaxing.

A number of Forbo floors were chosen with a rugged or colorful appearance. The walls in the workspaces are equipped with a strip of Forbo Bulletin Board pinboard linoleum.
