

Hotel Horto Convento

Hotel Horto Convento is in an ancient monastery existing since the 12th century, which later became a boarding school for the Girls of Saint Francis. Situated in the heart of the Borgo San Frediano neighbourhood in Florence, well-known for the vitality of the bars and restaurants of Oltrarno and for the authentic artisanal workshops, it opens up to a world of its own. Here time seems to stand still, suspended in the enchantment of a quiet and elegant atmosphere. The historical charm of the facility, accurately restored, is matched with contemporary comfort and the beauty of a refined design. The owner chose Flotex flooring for the hotel because of its excellent hard-wearing qualities.
