

Ideas factory Euskirchen

The Sustainable Economy Ideas Factory in Euskirchen, operated by the Euskirchen district economic development agency, is a modern center for sustainable innovation and entrepreneurship. It offers an ideal place to work for founders, start-ups and companies that want to benefit from an inspiring community, individual advice and comprehensive training opportunities. The focus is on supporting sustainable start-ups, supporting companies in their sustainable transformation, promoting innovation and imparting knowledge about sustainability. In addition to start-up and growth advice, the offerings include assistance with funding acquisition and networking with potential business partners. In addition to coworking spaces and the opportunity to use the ideas factory as a business address, it offers events, workshops and regular insights into its premises. The aim is to promote sustainability, innovation and entrepreneurship in the region. Great importance was also placed on sustainability when converting the existing building. A flexible and adaptable spatial concept has been created that promotes togetherness and preserves the original, robust and industrial character of the existing building. Linoleum and Marmoleum from Forbo were used as floor coverings. Due to its properties, Marmoleum is ideal for office buildings. The climate-positive product consists of bio-based raw materials and supports sustainable construction. The floor covering is still particularly durable and robust and can withstand the stress of heavy foot traffic, office chairs and tables. The extensive design variety enables creative design options for individual room concepts.

Location	Euskirchen
Interior architect	Stanke Interior Design
Photographer	Uwe Arndt Fotografie

Used Products

