creating better environments

Illustrative Passive House, Poland

The "Illustrative Passive House", build from organic materials, is the home office and place of residence of the architects from Studio "DOM ARCHITEKTÓW" located in Zlotow, Poland. As the architects say: "The construction had to implement all modern solutions in accordance with sustainable environmental development requirements, from organic origin materials, therefore renewable and the most recyclable. The priority was to ensure a healthy (safe) living environment and a good microclimate. We focused on eco natural building materials and the maximum elimination of chemicals." Forbo's sustainable Marmoleum Piano flooring is the perfect flooring for this project.
