

Ingol Library

When the community library was being refurbished and needed new flooring, it was soon apparent that the most fitting solution would be the Terrazzo design from Forbo Flooring Systems Sottsass collection. Ingol library near Preston, UK, serves a local community of residents and acts as a hub for the area offering a range of facilities in addition to its function as a library. When Lancashire County Council was looking at new flooring, it had to be practical, cleanable and interesting in design.
