

Insight Direct

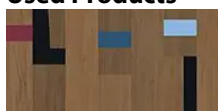

A selection of floor coverings from Forbo Flooring Systems, combining aesthetics, functionality and exceptional performance, has helped Maze Workplace to create a dynamic and flexible Next Generation Workspace for Insight Direct's new office in Manchester.

Global IT solutions company, Insight Direct has relocated from an existing office in Salford, to a smaller, but more central 9,000 sq ft premises in Manchester. The new office space offers employees a contemporary mix of alternative coworking environments and includes open plan hotdesking for 44 people, arranged in smaller 'neighbourhoods', two hot offices, five meeting rooms, two open/soft meeting areas as well as a wellbeing room and a large games area.

The office's urban location is represented throughout by Maze Workplace's clever and creative choice of products. This is clear as soon as you enter the office, particularly in the reception area. Here Forbo's Allura Luxury Vinyl Tiles (LVT) have been used to visually connect the outside pavement area with the interior of the building, by using a concrete aesthetic. Kate explained: "We used Forbo's Allura in the warm concrete dots colourway in the reception area, which added a nod to the urban location and offered something different from the standard 'concrete' look." Warm underfoot and easy to maintain, Allura LVT provides exceptional dimensional stability, strength and performance, making it the perfect solution for the high traffic reception area.

Location	Manchester, UK
Interior Designer	Maze Workplace
Commissioned by	Insight Direct
Photographer	Jefferson Smith

Used Products

Allura Wood dark vintage gymfloor

Allura Material warm concrete dots

