

Jakoba Mulderhuis - Hogeschool van Amsterdam

Flotex iconic in Jakoba Mulder house A 'studio look' with industrial concrete - that is what interior design firm EX Interiors had in mind for the Jakoba Mulderhuis, which houses the Engineering Department of the Hogeschool van Amsterdam. Pleasant acoustics EX Interiors created a successful floor design with Flotex tiles, in 4 connecting shades of gray. Together, these form clearly recognizable work zones and walkways. The acoustics are particularly pleasant thanks to the choice of Flotex flocced flooring. Freedom of design EX Interiors chose Flotex because of its acoustic properties and the freedom of design it offers. The result is a sleek play of colors on the floors, playfully interspersed with color accents in partition curtains and colorful workshop areas. Other floors were finished with Marmoleum in the color earl gray chocolate, which combines nicely with the Flotex shades of grey and meets the requirements in terms of sustainability and budget. The workshop areas are finished tone on tone, with Marmoleum floors in bright colors of red, yellow, green and blue. Conductive Colorex is laid in the technical areas and Surestep in the workshops provides the necessary anti-slip. Easy to clean For an intensively used educational building like the Jakoba Mulder House, it is also important that the floors are easy to clean, both dry and wet.

| | |
|---------------------|---|
| Project Name | Jakoba Mulderhuis - Hogeschool van Amsterdam |
| Location | Amsterdam |
| Commissioned By | Hogeschool van Amsterdam |
| Building Contractor | Visser & Smit Bouw, Unica, ABT, LBP Sight, Royal Haskoning DHV, BREED Integrated Design |
| Architect | Marc Koehler Architects, Powerhouse Company, De Architecten Cie |
| Interior Design | Ex Interiors en Studio Groen+Schild |
| Installation | Maasdam en Vlaq groep |
| Photography | Sebastian van Damme, Marloes Blok |

Featured Flooring Products

Flotex Colour tiles
Penang ash

Marmoleum
Cocoa
earl grey

Surestep Laguna
elephant

Surestep Laguna
greige

Colorex SD
moonstone

Marmoleum Piano
salsa red

Marmoleum Piano
Neptune blue

Marmoleum Piano
nettle green

Marmoleum Piano
zinnia

