

Kitchen creators

In addition to market-leading manufacturers of series-made elemental inventories, we have fortunately also a group of talented concept managers and designers who develop, manufacture and supply "hand-sewn" solutions for the home's central gathering room as a kitchen and bathroom. One of them is the kitchen creator Martin Helm and designer and partner Malene Hattens. "We use a lot of furniture linoleum, which is quite difficult to find something to say about", says Martin Helm, who also notes the popularity of the material among architects. It is among them that some of the kitchen cabinets' customers must be found. "Investing in long-lasting materials is only more satisfying and sustainable." It is fundamental part of the operation of the Odense design and manufacturing business. Malene Hattens: "With the new boldness of color and the desire for a varied interior design language, Furniture Linoleum can articulate its very own depth and structure. When it is both durable and friendly in its expression, the choice is really not that difficult. That is probably why we have been working with Furniture linoleum since 2006."
