

Kitchens | bartmann Berlin

bartmann berlin was founded by product designers and carpenters and has always combined contemporary and functional design with traditional craftsmanship and quality. The manufactory is characterised by high-quality residential and contract furniture in small series as well as custom-made products. The furniture designs are characterised by a straightforward and minimalist style. The company's philosophy is characterised by resource-conserving, sustainable production using modern manufacturing methods. In particular, natural materials from regional and trusted sources are used. Kitchens and beds form the heart of the collection. In addition to solid wood, surface linoleum is also used here. In the kitchens, worktops and fronts are made of linoleum and often create simple aesthetics in combination with solid wood handles. In the solid wood beds, the minimalist extravagance is particularly evident in the linoleum-finished headboards. Selected solid wood types and linoleum colours characterise the timeless design - the high-quality workmanship also concentrates on the essentials. This creates plenty of scope to make individual dreams come true as custom-made products. Find out more about the hartmann berlin collection here.
