König&Neurath

The König + Neurath company was established in 1925, and is now an international full-service provider for office, seating and room systems. König + Neurath is one of Germany's biggest selling brands of office furniture. The company, which employs some 900 people, produces office furniture, seating and room systems at its headquarters in Karben. There are also seven showrooms in Germany and international branches in France, England and the Netherlands. Thanks to the fact that it boasts its own wood and metal processing facilities and a high level of vertical integration, the company has a great deal of flexibility when it comes to meeting individual customer requirements.
