

L'ultima stanza

The new building of l'ultima stanza responded to this theme by focusing on the amplification of the characteristics of calm, familiarity and hospitality, from the viewpoint of the patients and their family members. The colours for the interior were chosen to differentiate the various areas and to create interior spaces with a domestic character. Forbo flooring products were preferred because they promote environmental health and because of their outstanding durability. The wide colour range of Forbo flooring products makes it possible to customize different environments.
