

NONFICTION

This is a rosemary green collection with a subtle khaki color. It's a very unique color, so it's a design that's frequently selected and used by Forbo's own exhibition. Since it's a cosmetics store, you selected colors and designs that create naturalistic and muted emotions. The flooring of the monotone may look different from the sample depending on the lighting and the production of props, so when you have time, it would be good to visit non-fiction in Itaewon and see the actual site with marmoleum.
