

NOVOZYMES A/S

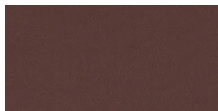

Pleasant atmosphere is green The Danish headquarter for the company Novozymes is furnish with consideration, quality and sustainability, design by Vilhelm Lauritzen Architect A/S. But also, with special Danish concept, which is a rare concept to see in contract designs in the business industry. "Hygge!" - There was made a profound ground work with focus on soft surface with a friendly aura and an ability to support and strengthen the rooms with the lights flowing through the windows and nature surrounding the outdoor areas, the leading interior adviser and architect Cecilia Pettersson from Rebel Workspace and Vada Design explains. She adds, the building owner has set the highest quality demands on more parameters: Sustainability, authenticity. - When you think of a pleasant atmosphere, Furniture is a more accommodating material with great authenticity and mat discreet surface, which can contract calmly into the orchestra, Cecilia Pettersson values. The range of colors is chosen by a tone-in-tone concept, so Furniture are a part of creating an entirety as well as emphasize the other components of the interior. The process was to take starting point in the materials which was the much challenging to color scheme – as Furniture – to afterwards continue with textile and at last the wall colors, which was easy to blend for the right tone, the interior architect explains. - The Furniture linoleum collection suits the house with fine quality factors. It lives up to the building owners demands about sustainability and ego friendly. And it is easy to maintain, Cecilla Pettersson points out.
