

OP-Zentrum Oberland Holzkirchen

In the Atrium Health Centre in Holzkirchen specialists from the Agatharied Hospital offer specialist outpatient care for the treatment of their patients. They are warmly welcomed in the bright, open and comfortably furnished waiting room of the practice. Colourful accents in the interior as well as the vinyl flooring "Allura" in an authentic wood look provide a place to stay and feel good. This design flooring is the optimal solution for areas with a high frequency of visitors, because it defies extreme stress and scores with its durability. In order to guarantee the doctors and their staff safe working conditions on the one hand and to meet the specific requirements in health environments on the other, the special "Colorex" floor covering was used in the treatment rooms. Colorex SD is ideal for areas where electrostatic charges can occur and must be safely discharged. Colorex EC is the highly conductive solution for maximum safety in preventing electrostatic charges. This special vinyl coating ensures the highest level of hygiene and chemical resistance. These were the decisive reasons for M-Design architects from Feldkirchen-Westerham to use Colorex in the sensitive medical treatment areas.
