Ronald McDonald House roof garden

Forbo Flooring has sponsored the floors for the new roof garden of the Ronald McDonald house at the children's department of Leiden University Medical Centre. It is an attractive play area for patients and their families, complete with play equipment such as a slide, rocking chairs and even a tree. The Marmoleum Walton floor has been carefully selected and meets all the hygiene and safety regulations applicable within the hospital. The cheerful colors give the room a cosy, child-friendly look and feel. All furniture surfaces are finished with Furniture Linoleum.The roof garden was opened mid-September 2018.
