

Running Bare Head Office

Running bare is Australia's longest running women's activewear brand, which, focuses on elevated designs premium finishing and luxurious fabrications. Over 70% of the activewear is still manufactured in Sydney. Seasonal scout the interior designer for Running Bare head office in Rosebery was seeking a floor design that added elegance and style to the room, however, was struggling to find a specific colour and visual in a resilient floor option. Sarah provided us with a photo of a random terrazzo stone tile, which, she really loved the colour and texture of. Thanks to our advanced digital technology, we were able to mimic the textures and colour tones and print on our eternal design sheet vinyl flooring.
