

Secondary School Enrico Fermi

Secondary School Enrico Fermi is located in Turin, Italy. The renovation project has radically revised the existing school. The intervention is part of the "Torino Fa Scuola" project promoted and supported by Fondazione Agnelli and Compagnia di San Paolo, in collaboration with the City of Turin. The architects chose Marmoleum Cocoa as floor covering because it is an innovative, natural floor. By combining the shell of the cocoa bean with the traditional Marmoleum ingredients, we have obtained a natural, fresh and modern floor.
