

Sir Charles Gairdner Hospital Short Stay Unit

Sir Charles Short Stay Gairdner Hospital specified by Silver Thomas Hanley had won the best health care building in 2018 Master builders Bankwest excellence in construction awards. The aim was to create better healing environments by working with leading design firms to deliver calming comfortable and functional care spaces. A clean and hygienic floor can contribute to the well-being of the patient. Especially in areas where patients with fragile health are treated or nursed, a sterile environment is vital. Forbo Eternal design general-purpose flooring was chosen due to its strong but flexible PUR lacquer coating, which protects the floor against staining and makes it easier to clean. Floor coverings in healthcare environments are often exposed to a wide variety of spills and potential staining coming from a wide range of chemicals. Forbo has chemical resistance reports upon request. Eternal gives peace of mind and constant protection from the moment it is installed.
