

Somewhere

Knowledge Base Design, founded by Shinichi Tanaka in 2017 in Osaka Japan, designs mainly product design, as well as implements its designs what are involved overall in creativity. He is aiming that brings full use of knowledge and wisdom which are useful for the clients, and designs properly while supporting as an one part of the team. Every single detail of “Somewhere” has been sophisticated by Japanese craftsman. Whole making process have been made by simple and unique techniques which is required craftsmanship and not depends on any huge machines or facilities.

Project name	Somewhere
Date of completion	2020
Architect	Knowledge Base Design

