

FLOORING SYSTEMS

creating better environments

Design of an insurance agency office with a separate area for customer service and administration employees. In the part for customer service, the designers were looking for a durable and interesting material, which is why they chose Allura LVT panels. In the administrative part, in order to improve the acoustics and the feeling of cosiness, they chose the Flotex floor covering.