

The Aulas Building

The Aulas building is an educational building with different types of auditoriums and classrooms for university students, located in front of the access park of the Campus San Joaquín of the Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile. The architectural office is interested in using sustainable materials for the design of its projects. Our sustainable Marmoleum Vivace flooring combines very well with the other materials of the building; like wood and stone.

Location	Macul, Santiago, Chile
Photographer	Felipe Díaz Contardo
Architect	OMN Arquitectos

Used Products

Marmoleum
Vivace
Granada

