

The Christie NHS Foundation Trust

Designs from across the Marmoleum and Project Vinyl collections from Forbo Flooring Systems have been used to great effect at The Christie NHS Foundation Trust radiotherapy facility at the Royal Oldham Hospital. Forming an integral part of the interior design, a range of vibrant colours were specified in both tile and sheet formats and designs, hand cut on site, achieving a welcoming aesthetic that flows throughout. The durability offered by both collections also meets the high traffic demands of the hospital.
