

FLOORING SYSTEMS

creating better environments

Mearsk Tower The Mearsk Tower is a top modern research building, which innovation architecture creates the optimal guidelines for the world class health research. The Building stands out as a landmark in Copenhagen. The Mearsk Tower is an expansion of the Panum, Copenhagen University Faculty for health and Medicine, and consist of both research- and education facilities plus a convention centre with lecture- and meeting rooms, there are combined with the newest technology. The almost 25.000 m2 was installed in a special color there should match the bronze front. Color-wise close to design 3712 "Orange shimmer".