

The Sheila Bird Group

The Sheila Bird Group has installed an electric mix of Forbo products in a flamboyant patchwork design. After moving into a new office in Manchester, the interior design group wanted to create a space that empowered its clients. Atul Bansal, MD of the Sheila Bird Group: "Some of our clients are afraid to use colour and texture as such, and we wanted our new office space to challenge existing habits; we wanted to show clients that they can step outside of the norm when it comes to interior design."
