

Topaz Vlietwijk Healthcare Institution

Carrying out a refurbishment whilst care services continue as normal? That calls for smart solutions. Residents continue to live there, care staff must be able to do their jobs, and disruption must be kept to a minimum. In this case study at the Topaz care home, you can read how a Forbo Eternal Next loose-lay floor, extensively tested with hoists, beds and everyday use, became a future-proof solution for renovation in the care sector. An inspiring example of how collaboration, testing and innovation come together in practice.
