

Toyota Motor Manufacturing

Flotex flocked flooring is a popular floor covering that combines the best characteristics of carpets and resilient floor coverings. Architect Mrs. Daňkova is a certified ergo specialist, and the unique properties of the Flotex covering fully fit into the concept of ergonomically designed interior. The architect has excellent experience with Flotex with regard to resistance, durability, comfort, acoustic impact noise reduction and slip resistance. Easy cleaning and maintenance and water resistance are also a benefit. It was the emphasis on ergonomic space solutions that spurred the investor to choose for Flotex in the modular planks variant.

|  |                                    |
|--|------------------------------------|
| Lieu   | Kolín, Czech Republic              |
| Architecte                                     | Ing.arch. Šárka Daňková            |
| Designer                                       | Ing.arch. Šárka Daňková            |
| Entrepreneur ( revêtement de sol) de référence | Medisolve Medical Solutions s.r.o. |
| Photographe                                    | Martin Misík                       |

Revêtements de sol utilisés

