

Traning center Welser Profile, Gresten

As one of the largest employers in the region, profile manufacturer Welser Profile finds it important to promote talent from the surrounding area and to give apprentices the highest quality of training. To facilitate the more than 1,000 apprentices and trainees, a new training center has been built in 2019. In the premises, the trainees will find state-of-the-art equipment and appealing training and recreation rooms. Forbo Flotex flooring has been chosen as floor covering for a large part of the 1500 m² training facility. Thanks to its textile texture, Flotex gives the rooms good walking comfort as well as excellent acoustics. A combination of various Flotex Colour textures and the unique Phillip Starck designs gives the interior a lively ambience.
