

Treloar College

To complete the new build project of Treloar College in Hampshire, the flooring specification had to satisfy a number of requirements, these primarily being durability and hygiene. The tough and hardwearing benefits of Forbo Flooring Systems Flotex collection of flocked hybrid floor coverings made it an ideal choice, particularly with its supreme hygienic properties and added tactile comforts of a carpet. For this project the design Montana was used from our previous Flotex Classic collection. Please visit our Flotex pages for our latest collections.

Location	Alton, United Kingdom
Architect	Macallan Penfold Architects
Flooring Contractor	Smith Bros, Fareham

Used Products

