

Truganina Elements Community Centre

Proud to see the Truganina Elements Community Centre recognised as the Commercial Project of the Year from the Floor Covering Institute of Australia, where design met skilled craftsmanship right down to the floors! Installed by the talented team at Cotter Floors, this project used Marmoleum Modular to deliver a vibrant, natural and sustainable finish that complements the building's bold architectural identity. Marmoleum Modular isn't just a beautiful surface it's a practical one too. Made from natural materials, it's durable, low emission. Ideal for community spaces that serve generations to come. Hats off to Cotter Floors for their precision and care. Their workmanship brought this vision to life proof that great design depends on great execution.
