

Tystnad, Poznan, Poland

The Tystnad model by Deskwise, inspired by the Scandinavian approach to design, i.e. a combination of minimalism and ecological raw materials. It refers to the harmony between a person and the place where we spend a significant part of our time. Peace and love with which we surround users with our desks have a positive effect on the effects of work and well-being. We wanted our products to be completely natural, which is why the perfect combination is real wood in various forms, steel and Forbo linoleum, giving the product a completely unknown experience, increasing the comfort of use more than it was ever possible before. That is why the desks we offer are the perfect choice for demanding people who value high class, aesthetics and elegance.
