

Unicorn Vets

Unicorn Vets chooses Marmoleum for its new surgery. The revolutionary Marmoleum collection has enabled an extremely hygienic environment to be created at Unicorn Vets' small animal surgeries at Ashurst and Fair Oak, in Hampshire. Research has confirmed that harmful bacteria and other micro-organisms, including MRSA, cannot multiply on Marmoleum flooring, this makes it an ideal flooring solution for surgery environments. Its smooth surface prevents dirt and dust from penetrating and makes it easy to keep clean with long-lasting appearance retention. It also has good slip-resistant properties – important for clinical environments and when pets are around.
