

WO Interior A/S – Kyoto

WO Interior A/S – Kyoto adjustable office desk EVERGREEN A long-life product with respect for resources and the climate, combined with an adaptability to all useful needs; these are the key headlines for the new adjustable office desk range from WO Interior A/S. The range carries the name 'Kyoto', which should bring the global climate protocol from 1997 in recollection. - The director for WO Interior Niels Fl. Troelsen, has developed Kyoto in collaboration with the designers Lise & Hans Isbrand, he evaluates on the discount and the buy-and-throwaway falls in popularity as the understanding for environmental impact and the sustainable requirements about resource consciousness. Kyoto illustrates that sustainability also presuppose a flexible adaptability to changeable user situations. - We see how the user requirements from private customers and from the contract market are melting together. On often more expensive and therefore fewer square meters the both have a need for a multifunctional desk, which can solve more than one task: from meeting over to education to work, eating and off-hours, Niels Fl. Troelsen explains and underlines the individual design desktop with the same battery-operated adjustable office set, managed by a program on the phone. - The desk range characterize not only by been architecturally thought-through but also by using the best materials. Niels Troelsen elaborates on how the choice of Furniture to Kyoto was the right for the leading ambassador for linoleum for furniture's and equipment's. Kyoto was present on 3 Days of Design in Copenhagen in May 2019.
