

Ardcoil, Tramore, Co Waterford

"I was pleased to specify Forbo Flooring products on Ardscoil na Mara based on previous positive experience of what is a long established company. It was also decisive that the extensive range of Forbo products available meant that the varying needs inherent in a large scale project were able to be met by one manufacturer. From sustainability considerations (Marmoleum) to hygiene concerns (Flotex), Forbo fit the bill in each case, even down to the one-off school crest which became the main feature upon entering the school."
