

easyApotheke, Münster

There are 135 easyApotheken stores across Germany. There is also a branch in Münster, which is run by pharmacist Alexa Wenig-Gieselmann. The special approach of the group: to combine professional expertise with the greatest service orientation. The design of the premises is also striking; the store presents itself in newly designed rooms covering 170 m², which were redesigned within seven weeks. Decisive criteria in the choice of the new floor covering were, on the one hand, a quick installation and a hard-wearing material. Requirements that the Allura Puzzle loose-lay design floor confidently meets. The large-format tiles are applied directly to the existing floor without the use of adhesives. Both the dimensional stability and the technically sophisticated dovetail joints guarantee a perfectly even, highly resilient surface. In Münster, a dark concrete look was laid, which supports the striking appearance of the easyApotheke and also provides a visually calm base for the product range. "Thanks to its iridescent effect, the surface is not only insensitive, it also doesn't look so one-dimensional," says a delighted pharmacist Alexa Wenig-Gieselmann. "The floor is simply beautiful!"
