Safe and Sound

Why Compromise?

In areas where multiple applications are an issue, it can sometimes be difficult to find a product that meets all the necessary requirements. Forbo's Surestep Wood Decibel range has been specifically designed to provide R10 slip resistance underfoot while at the same time offering 17dB impact sound reduction. Using aluminium oxide particles in the wear layer to provide sustainable slip resistance and maintain the clarity of design, Surestep Wood Decibel meets both the Health and Safety Executive (HSE)* and UK Slip Resistance Group (UKSRG) requirements, achieving a Pendulum Test Value (PTV) of 36 or higher, signalling a low slip risk.

The First Multiple Width Safety Floor

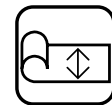

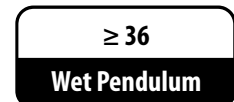

Unlike traditional safety flooring ranges, Surestep Wood Decibel is uniquely available in 2, 3 and 4m widths, offering the first multiple width safety floor. As a result, not only is installation both quicker and easier, but in larger installation areas where hygiene is of crucial importance, the need for significant amounts of welding is substantially reduced, saving you both time and money. Areas of up to 20m² can also be loose laid.

The Perfect Match

Featuring the realistic design appearance that is the hallmark of Forbo's vinyl collections, 8 colours in the Surestep Wood Decibel range are specifically designed to match the colours available in the standard Surestep Wood range, ensuring a perfect flow of design across projects where multiple application areas occur. As a result, Surestep Wood Decibel will help you achieve reassuringly safe, quiet and aesthetically attractive interiors in a wide range of commercial, education, healthcare and retail interiors.
