The Forbo Group – a leading manufacturer of floor coverings, building and construction adhesives, as well as power transmission and conveyor belt solutions – reported net sales of CHF 554.8 million in the first half of 2015 (prior-year period: CHF 603.0 million). In local currencies, this is equivalent to organic growth of 0.7%, however, translated into Swiss francs it represents a decline of 8.0%. Negative currency effects had a significant impact on both sales and earnings. Operating profit (EBIT) decreased by 11.3% to CHF 57.9 million (prior-year period: CHF 65.3 million). Adjusted for currency effects, however, it rose by 3.7%. The EBIT margin came to 10.4% (prior-year period: 10.8%). Group profit from continuing operations amounted to CHF 45.8 million (prior-year period: CHF 53.6 million), which is equivalent to a decline of 14.6%. After adjustment for currency effects, it reached the previous year's level despite lower financial income.

Dear shareholders,

As expected, because of the strong Swiss franc, the first half of 2015 overall proved to be very challenging for Forbo. In addition, the two divisions have shown very differing developments. Whereas Movement Systems chalked up a record first half in local currency terms, Flooring Systems faced tough market conditions in certain markets and could not quite reach the previous year's performance in local currencies.

In the wake of the Swiss National Bank discontinuing its minimum euro exchange rate in January 2015, both sales and earnings in the corporate currency were severely impacted by currency effects. The Swiss franc firmed significantly against most of the currencies important for us such as the euro, the pound sterling and the Japanese yen, clearly leaving its mark when local currency results were translated into the corporate currency. Sales were down by about CHF 50 million and operating profit (EBIT) was about CHF 10 million lower as a result of the strong Swiss franc.

We continued to expand also in the period under review the attractive product portfolios of both divisions with new, globally launched offerings, invested further in the development of high-quality products and continued to strengthen our distribution channels, especially in growth markets. Owing to the ongoing situation on the foreign exchange markets, we initiated a series of additional cost optimization measures in order to offset the currency effects as far as possible by an even better operating performance.

Sales in local currencies slightly higher

In the first half of 2015, Forbo generated net sales of CHF 554.8 million (prior-year period: CHF 603.0 million), representing an increase of 0.7% in local currencies. Owing to the severely negative currency effects, this comes to minus 8.0% in the corporate currency. The sales of Flooring Systems declined by 2.1% in local currency terms (–12.2% in the corporate currency). Movement Systems reported a significant increase in sales of 8.1% in local currencies (+ 3.1% in the corporate currency).

Movement Systems increased sales strongly in both local currencies and Swiss francs thanks to its broader presence in growth markets and the lower exposure to exchange rate fluctuations owing to the geographic weighting of its activities.

Earnings affected by the negative currency effects

Forbo has continued to invest in recent months in capacity expansion, the optimization of business processes and growth projects. Despite these expenditures, which were higher than the previous year, we succeeded on balance in raising profitability further in local currencies. The contributory factors were the ongoing optimization of cost structures adjusted to current market conditions together with further specific productivity gains all along the value chain.

Operating profit before depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) came to CHF 73.6 million (prior-year period: CHF 83.2 million), corresponding to a decline of 11.5%. The EBITDA margin stood at 13.3% (prior-year period: 13.8%). Operating profit (EBIT) came to CHF 57.9 million, compared with CHF 65.3 million in the comparable period of 2014, which equates to a decrease of 11.3%. The EBIT margin amounted to 10.4% (prior-year period: 10.8%). After adjustment for currency effects, however, operating profit (EBIT) rose by 3.7%.

Group profit at prior-year level after currency-effect adjustment

Group profit from continuing operations amounted to CHF 45.8 million (prior-year period: CHF 53.6 million), which reflects a decrease of 14.6%. After adjustment for currency effects, however, it reached the previous year's level despite lower financial income.

Earnings per share from continuing operations (undiluted) came to CHF 24.24 (prior-year period: CHF 26.36).

Equity ratio remains high

Compared with the beginning of the year, shareholders' equity decreased by CHF 50.5 million to CHF 688.3 million, as a result of the payment of the dividend and negative currency translation effects. The equity ratio remained at a high level and stood at 67.9% (year-end 2014: 67.4%).

Liquidity at a high level

Net cash came to CHF 176.6 million as at June 30, 2015. In addition, Forbo held treasury shares worth CHF 281.5 million, based on the share price at the end of June 2015. The strong balance sheet coupled with the high level of cash enables Forbo not only to engage in the approved share buyback program but also to take advantage of external growth opportunities provided they can generate value for our shareholders.

Performance of the divisions

The Forbo Flooring Systems division reported net sales of CHF 383.9 million in the first half of 2015 (prior-year period: CHF 437.2 million), which is equivalent to a decrease of 2.1% in local currencies (– 12.2% in the corporate currency). The division could not maintain the positive sales trend it has reported since mid-2013, owing to weaker demand in core markets such as France, the Netherlands, Great Britain and the USA. No real recovery is yet in sight in various markets of key importance to Forbo. Compared with the prior-year period, the building and construction adhesives activity managed to maintain its sales level amid unchanged challenging market conditions.

Operating profit (EBIT) decreased by 17.6% to CHF 43.4 million (prior-year period: CHF 52.7 million) owing to the decline in sales and the strongly negative currency effects. The EBIT margin amounted to 11.3% (prior-year period: 12.1%). In order to better offset the decrease in sales and the currency effects, the division initiated a series of optimization projects and measures to adapt cost structures to current market conditions. The focus in the coming months will be on further implementing the initiatives for profitable growth by intensive marketing of the extensive new collections and new launches introduced during 2014 as well as this year. At the same time we will concentrate on the steady expansion of our distribution structures in growth markets.

The Forbo Movement Systems division reported net sales of CHF 170.9 million in the first half of 2015 (prior-year period: CHF 165.8 million), which is equivalent to a significant increase of 8.1% in local currencies (+ 3.1% in the corporate currency). All regions contributed to drive the substantial growth and the related gains in market share. Although the business environment in Europe is still mixed, most companies performed better than in the comparable period the previous year. Demand in America remained buoyant owing to successful projects with major accounts in various customer segments, while Asia/Pacific stayed on the growth path, even though the first signs of a market slowdown were seen in China.

The systematic implementation of the strategy with demanding targets in all parts of the business had a very positive effect on operating profit (EBIT), which rose sharply by 20.0% to CHF 20.4 million (prior-year period: CHF 17.0 million). The EBIT margin was increased to 11.9% (prior year period: 10.3%). In the second half of the year, we will continue to systematically implement the strategic initiatives by extending our product portfolio in specific areas and strengthening our distribution structures, especially in Asia/Pacific and the Americas, with additional points of sale.

Outlook for 2015

Given the current currency situation and market volatility, it is very difficult to make a forecast for the full year at this point.

For the year 2015 as a whole, we expect sales in local currencies to come in approximately at the previous year's level. However, sales and earnings in the corporate currency will be eroded substantially once the local results are translated into the strong Swiss franc. We will continue to further optimize our cost structures and offset the negative currency effects as far as possible with innovative and high-quality products.

Barring any further deterioration in the current economic conditions, in particular the currency situation, we expect Group profit from continuing operations in 2015 to be slightly lower than the previous year in Swiss francs.

If the estimates and assumptions used by management to the best of its knowledge at the date of the financial statements happen to differ from subsequent actual facts, the original estimates and assumptions will be adjusted in the reporting period in which the facts have changed. The consolidated half-year financial statements do not contain any significant new estimates and assumptions used by management compared with the consolidated financial statements as at December 31, 2014. Income tax expenditure is estimated on the basis of average actual tax rates during the current business year.

In the Movement Systems division, the Group develops, produces and sells high-quality conveyor and processing belts, as well as plastic modular belts, and drive, timing and flat belts made of synthetic materials. Corporate includes the costs of the Group headquarters and certain items of income and expenses which are not directly attributable to a specific business.

The Flooring Systems and Movement Systems divisions are reportable segments. The identification of reportable segments is based on internal management reporting to the Group's Executive Chairman and its Chief Executive Officer and hence on the financial information used to review the performance of the operational units in order to reach a decision on the allocation of resources.

The Executive Chairman and the Chief Executive Officer assess the performance of the segments based on their operating result (EBIT). The net financial result is not allocated to the divisions since it is Corporate Treasury that in the main exercises central control over the financial result.
