RE: Best Practice BPVC 2.0 renewal process. Products under renewal.

Best Practice PVC certification expires every few years, requiring renewal. This involves working with a third-party auditor, gathering numerous supplier reports, and obtaining necessary signed endorsements. Changes in standards, like the updated Best Practice PVC 2.0, can extend the process. While we strive for efficiency, final certification may take 3–6 months and sometimes longer.

Unless significant changes have been made to product processes or raw materials, certification is expected to proceed as usual.

For further information on product collections please contact your local Forbo representative.

Best regards
